How it works

Understanding your course

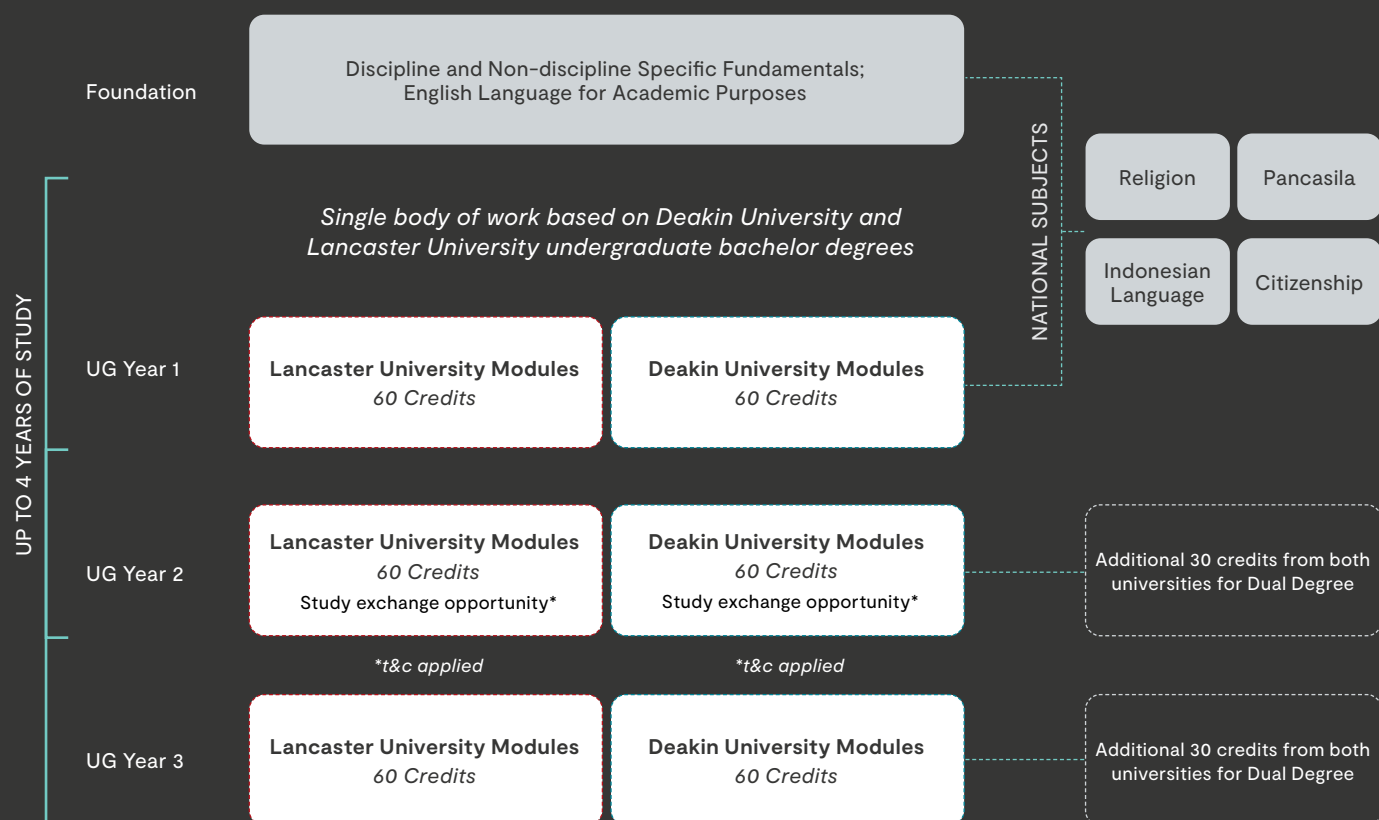

Deakin University in Australia and Lancaster University in the UK have partnered to offer Indonesian students the opportunity to receive dual undergraduate qualifications from two world-class institutions while enjoying the many benefits of living and working close to home, supported by their families and friends.

The dual degree options in Business and Computer Science are taught in English and bring together existing modules from undergraduate courses at both universities, enabling you to achieve two individual degree qualifications in one combined course.

Deakin Lancaster Indonesia offers flexible entry points, with both direct entry and pathway options available, leading to completion in up to four years.

You also have the choice to study semesters abroad at Deakin in Australia and / or Lancaster in the UK.

Understanding your journey

Bachelor degree awarded from each university. Recognized by the Indonesian government, all dual bachelor's degrees are equivalent to sarjana degree.
